Good Polo Promised For Coming Season

There will be polo, good polo, and lots of it played this coming season. The presence of the Fifth Cavalry has given just the boost necessary to start the game going again and already enthusiasts are beginning to take account of stock.

Walter Dillingham is very enthusiastic over the outlook and will enter into the game with heart and soul. His two prize ponies, which have been on the Pacific Coast for the past two years, have just arrived here, and are now in quarantine. Dillingham's lead will beyond doubt be followed by other enthusiasts and soon there will be something doing at Moanalua.

"The outlook is very bright," said Dillingham in conversation with the Bulletin man yesterday. "There has never been any difficulty in securing one team here; our trouble has been in keeping up two, so as to afford an opportunity for play on this island. The presence of the Fifth Cavalry obviates that difficulty."

"I crossed the continent in company with Lieutenant Colonel Hunter of the Fifth Cavalry. Colonel Hunter and I discussed the polo situation here, and in San Francisco I met some of the younger officers who are polo enthusiasts. The talks which I had with them were most satisfactory."

"A new polo club has been organized at San Mateo, and an effort will be made next year to get a representative gathering of teams there for a tournament. They are very anxious to have one or more teams from the islands compete, and strong pressure was brought to bear on me to secure my promise to return."

"If they could see their way clear to changing the date of the tournament from March, the usual time on the Pacific Coast, to November, there might be a possibility of our doing something. March is a bad time in the islands, because it interferes with the sugar harvest."

The Fifth Cavalry officers are very impatient to get at practice, and will probably do so in very short order. There is more or less doubt as to just what sort of a team they will have, the regiment having been so divided of late years that few of the younger officers have had opportunity to play together.

There is an ideal field for polo playing in the cantonment at Lihue. It is located between the officers' quarters and the mess buildings and is level, smooth, and of ample size. Colonel Schuyler, the commander of the regiment, is an enthusiastic horseman—a typical cavalry officer—and the younger officers are sure of his encouragement in their efforts to organize and maintain a crack team.

The officers have fifteen or twenty likely ponies with them and there will doubtless be opportunity to secure more here from time to time. With few other amusements available at Lihue, the polo team, or teams, will probably have plenty of spectators daily.

Just at present Walter Dillingham is very busy preparing for the commencement of the Pearl Harbor dredging work. Just as soon as the first rush is over and things are well under way he will undoubtedly take the initiative in getting together the civilian players and preparing them for play against the officers.

CHINESE ATHLETIC CLUB IS OUT
AFTER SCALPS

Burning Challenge Is Issued Through the Bulletin, and Married Ones
Offer To Stake a Dinner—Sweeping
Defeat Is Sent Out

The benedict members of the Chinese Athletic Club are on the war-path, for they want to get a crack at the "sassy" bachelors. President Joseph Goo Kim, who is the captain of the married men's team, has issued the following def through the Bulletin and he is confident that his double-strength team will whip the single-handed team. His team will play for sport's sake, but, at the same time, he is willing to wager anything from chop suey to a 12-course dinner on the outcome. His def reads as follows:

"We, the undersigned members of the C. A. C. benedict baseball team, do hereby challenge the winners of the C. A. C. Alliance game or the Bachelors of the C. A. C. to a game of baseball to be played at Asia Park on January 22, 1909, at 2:30 o'clock. Our line-up is as follows:

"Y. Akong, catcher; H. Chuck, pitcher; En Fee Pung, first base; En Sue Pung, second base; A. K. F. Yap, third base; En Yate Pung, shortstop; Joseph Goo Kim (captain), right field; Willie Ayau, center field;

ECHOES

Fort Schuyler athletes are said to be of a pretty high order. In baseball, as well as other manly sports, the troopers are much to the good and rumor has it that they will not only take a prominent part in athletic events, but will be a factor that will have to be reckoned on in taking stock of the top-notchers.

There will be some fine golf play on the Moanalua links tomorrow, rain or shine. The Tansan cup tournament is on, and a little thing like inclement weather will not deter enthusiasts from being on hand.

The Fifth Cavalry has an ambitious heavyweight, Hight Marlowe, who is anxious to secure a match with some local bruiser.

A FRED SHRUBB, FAST BRITISHER WHO IS TO RACE WITH LONGBOAT

Alfred Shrubbs, the English runner, is to run a Marathon race against Tom Longboat, the Indian who defeated Dorando. The race will take place in Madison Square Garden, New York, on January 26. Shrubbs holds every professional distance record from 2,000 yards up to eleven miles. He has never been beaten in competition. He is thirty-six years old and has been a runner for more than a decade. He is five feet seven inches tall and weighs 136 pounds. Notwithstanding his comparatively short stature, he has a stride of more than five feet. He has beaten relays of the best professional runners in this country and Canada.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Jan. 3.—Dorando quit in the nineteenth mile of his Marathon race against Longboat in the Fourth Regiment armory here last night. After a race which gave promise of being a record-breaker, the Indian wore him into such a state of fatigue that after he covered the sixth lap of the eighteenth mile he turned from the track and threw himself into the arms of his brother.

It was so unexpected by the spectators that no one realized what had happened until Longboat was seen flying into the back stretch alone and Dorando was climbing through the ropes to his dressing-room.

Longboat fell in the second mile and so badly injured his knee that it became swollen in the twentieth mile and he walked several laps before resuming the run. From the moment Dorando quit until the Indian broke the tape in a final mile sprint the big armory resounded with deafening cheers.

The pace was a killer, all Madison Square Garden records up to the time of the Italian quitting, being broken at the eighteenth mile, the runners being four minutes ahead. One of the most enthusiastic spectators was Longboat's Indian bride, who sat in a box at the finish line. The Indian's time was three hours, three minutes, and twenty-four seconds.

GREAT FISTIC MILL WILL SOON BE HELD

CLEVER LADS WILL ENTER
ARENA IN FORTNIGHT

Continuous Performance of Pugilistic
Stunts Is Arranged For by Honolulu
Impressario—Sullivan Will Meet
Husky Coast Middleweight

Reilly and Smith will meet in the roped arena a week from next Saturday night. The lads arrived with General Joe on the Alameda yesterday afternoon and are scheduled to mix things just as soon as they can get into training, after their sea voyage.

Strong endeavors were made to bring the lads together a couple of months ago and they got considerable advertising thereby. In consequence, fans are showing a laudable interest in the coming mill, and the manager-impressario will probably have a house that will justify the expense to which he has gone, when the little entertainment is pulled off.

George Peterson, who will go on against Dick Sullivan, also arrived on the Alameda. Peterson has one decision over Sullivan to his credit, and there will be no child's play when the men meet.

The mill will probably take place a fortnight after the Reilly-Smith go. It is announced that Kyle Whitney has agreed to come over and meet the winner of the Sullivan-Peterson fight. Whitney is a clever man who has been up against some very good ones, and a fight between him and the winner of the scheduled contest would doubtless prove a strong attraction to the fans.

Cohen has more than made good the promise, given when he left here, that he would bring some good men back with him, and there is every indication that a great fistic revival is about to take place here. At any rate, there will be some good sport during the next month.

All-Hawaiians Will Play Today

There will be some lively baseball on the league grounds this afternoon when the All-Hawaiians meet a picked team from the league in a practice game. Despite the inclement weather which interfered seriously with the plans of the men during the past week, Captain Fernandez' aggregation has been getting in some good, telling practice, and today's entertainment is sure to be well worth a trip out to the park.

Every day now sees the All-Hawaiians shaping up in better form and the powers that be are beginning to feel very much encouraged. By the time Mike Fisher's All-American bunch reaches here, there will be a bang-up nine on hand to receive the outfit, unless present indications prove trustworthy.

Fans are not turning out for practice as well as they might, and there are a good many vacant places on the benches these days.

Match Race Is Run Today At Hilo

Racing rivalry, once started, is not easily stopped. The New Year's meeting has aroused the spirit of competition among horse-owners, and the first, though perhaps not the last match, arising out of this spirit will be run off today, according to the Hilo Tribune. The contestants will be Little Joker, which is Japanese owned; Adion, the Maui Stable horse, and John O'Rourke's Major Collier. Little Joker was brought from the Coast for the late race meeting, and there was great disappointment because he did not run. There is much speculation as to how he will show against the other horses, more especially John O'Rourke's latest "goer." The race will start at 3 p. m., and will be for a purse of $100, with an added sweepstake of $250 each.

The championship "hiking" race will be held tomorrow afternoon over the usual course, as scheduled. There is every indication that there will be "something doing."

The sophomores ran away with the victory in the interclass cross-country run of the High School students yesterday.

Table d'hôte luncheon will be served at the Oahu Country Club house tomorrow as usual.

Nebraska has the poorest prospects for a basketball team of eight years. Four letter men are in the large squad out for practice but the remainder of the players are inexperienced.
